As a past Banks Peninsula Community Board member and Community Board Chairman over 4 terms, I continue to be interested in community affairs, networking and working in the community. I am a good listener like being involved and where there is a challenge I like to work if there are issues to a find solution. To be involved you need to understand the issues.

My Community Board role provided many extraordinary opportunities to be involved in our community. I continue to be actively involved in the community e.g., the Akaroa and Bays Forum, the Banks Peninsula War Memorial Committee, Pigeon Bay Reserve Committee, the Banks Peninsula Early Learning Centre, range of Community hui etc.

I was involved with the Akaroa Museum for four terms and supported the Museum with its many submissions to ensure that the Museum remains an integral part of the community.

I have had the opportunity of being involved with the Okains Bay Museum (on the Board for several terms) and its amazing collection. The connections with the community highlighted how important to have the support and assistance of the local community.

Over many years I have had opportunities of working with all the Banks Peninsula Rūnanga. Ōnuku has a special relationship for me. I continue to Chair the Takapūneke Reserve Co- Governance Committee. How the Ōnuku leadership relate to their whanau, meet on a regular basis and make decisions is very refreshing.

Our Banks Peninsula environment - it's landscape, "good and bad events", and its people, deserve to be acknowledged and recorded and kept alive in our Akaroa Museum.

I have been the Community member on the Akaroa Museum Advisory Committee in the last term of the Banks Peninsula Community Board and would like to be considered for this next term 2022 to 2025.
