The wider population of south Christchurch and beyond will gain knowledge of and enjoy the social, cultural & environmental impacts of community investment in the health of the Ōpāwaho Heathcote River.	Staff Assessment  The OHRN was incorporated in 2017, formalising a network created to enable cohesion between stakeholders working to care for, learn about, and enjoy the Ōpāwaho Heathcote River. As well as local volunteer groups, stakeholders include the Christchurch West Melton Water Zone Committee, Government departments, and local authorities. Maintaining a respectful and productive relationship with Ngai Tahu remains a high priority.  The OHRN currently supports more than 20 riverside groups, maintains an informative website that encourages new members, and contributes direct delivery support to now well established collaborative events such as the Mother of All Clean Ups, Matariki celebrations, and World Rivers Day. After developing a ten year strategic plan to guide and monitor achievements, the group is now ready to implement the plan and its ongoing evaluation. Several research projects underway are funded from other sources, but will contribute to the plan and the information base of the network.  While the binding focus for the network is the ecological health of the river and its immediate surrounds, the function of assembling and supporting community volunteers who enjoy working with others and connect socially means the network contributes significantly to community building and neighbourhood well-being. Working with these local groups means that the OHRN can act as a regular channel for the voice of local residents when meeting with and advocating to wider stakeholder groups, and decision-makers.  The organisation has built and demonstrated capability to undertake research, monitoring and pilot projects with authority organisations and funders of research and specialised monitoring projects. This application is to secure core operational funds that enable ongoing communications and participation as a network of local community groups. The committee meets monthly on a voluntary basis and is supported by one part time paid position for detailed communications and administration tasks. Some hours are also contracted on a casual basis for expertise in areas such as research mapping, narrative development, and river science of interest to the whole network. A key communication and recruitment tool is the OHRN website which is kept up to date with information, plan progress, and participation opportunities.  Recommendation rationale: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>The recommendation is made because the project achieves significant Strengthening Communities Fund participation outcomes alongside otherwise funded environmental outcomes.</li><li>The recommendation of $12,000 is to support the unfunded operational effort required to achieve cohesion and collaboration across diverse stakeholders and more than 20 riverside community volunteer projects.</li></ul> LCH recommendation: $4,000

Sundays 4.30 - 5.30pm.  We will continue to keep in touch by newsletter.  We will contact new families that move into the Rowley area and offer support. We will discover who these families are when we visit the streets.  Families will be more informed and take a greater interest in seeing Rowley a place where they can be proud to live.  How Will Participants Be Better Off?  The participants will be more connected and equipped to take an active part in their community. The children will care more for their environment, There will be less crime, less child abuse and we will attempt to break the cycle of unemployment in the next generation.	Staff Assessment  All programmes are values based and work is primarily with the families in Hoon Hay. Programmes are held at Canterbury Kids Coach office or on board the bus in Rowley. Rowley has a high number of people who are new migrants and also many families with financial challenges.  The Canterbury Kids Coach is a free after school programme delivered in the Rowley area of Hoon Hay on a Wednesday and Friday 3pm to 5pm, from a small bus. Each programme runs for 18 weeks and focuses on values for life. The staffed bus parks up in a local street and children can come on to the bus and join the programme. It offers local children a more casual approach than other mainstream after school programmes. From time to time the bus changes street location. When this is done all families in the new streets are visited, so the project can be explained, participation encouraged and support offered to families as appropriate. Each school holidays the group visit families in the streets close to where the bus is operating.  The pre-school programmes operate from the office base four days a week and include Just Music. There is an online programme using zoom, this has limited impact as most parents do not want their children using up valuable data on zoom to do the programmes. Every six weeks a community newsletter is delivered which helps maintain contact with families.  The project collaborates and links with other local organisations and staff are assisted by local volunteers. Due to covid the group have lost several volunteers and attendance numbers on the bus have decreased. Many families not wanting to be in a restricted space which could increase the risk of getting covid. The project brings families together helping them feel welcomed and value and provides a safe place for children to be after school.  Recommendation rationale: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>The project helps achieve the objectives of the Te Haumako Te Whitingia Strengthening Communities Together Strategy, by contributing to the pillars of People and Place.</li><li>The $15,000 recognises the street approach unique to the project and that a number of other funding sources are not available to the group.</li></ul>

It has undertaken a range of initiatives that meet its objectives to educate and raise awareness of sustainability, and to enable community wellbeing in environment friendly ways throughout Aotearoa. Projects in Christchurch have included an eco-Christmas tree project, climate change videos, local river walks and education workshops. The Community Board supported the 30 year anniversary of King George Reserve, and this proved instrumental in strengthening stakeholder collaboration to care for and learn from this location. The King George V Reserve project has been approached as a treaty-based initiative through which local people learn and practice regenerative community principles, strengthening community well-being and resilience, and grow in bi-cultural understanding. The project is a regenerative research pilot that is intended to produce findings of interest to an audience of other organisations including Council. The group has approached or worked with Te Hapū o Ngāti Wheke, Council parks staff, St Martins School, the Cashmere High School Volunteer Army, St Martins Scouts, the Opawaho Heathcote River Network and local residents of St Martins, Opawa, and Hillsborough. Key adviser, ecologist Colin Meurk has contributed to the project with both environmental expertise and deep knowledge of the establishment of the King George V Reserve for the sesquicentennial of Te Tiriti o Waitangi over 30 years ago. Labelled a Tiny Forest, the reserve is a focal point for both volunteer maintenance and community education. The project faces a shortfall in funding to reach the completion date in early 2022. Some actions have been hampered or halted due to COVID-19 constraints. Organisation Description/Objectives:

To encourage the development of our rangatahi to achieve their full physical, intellectual, social and spiritual potential, as individuals, as responsible citizens and as members of our local, national and international communities. We want our rangatahi to thrive and develop whilst learning to contribute to their community.

Alignment with Council Strategies and Policies

- Strengthening Communities Together

Alignment with Council Funding Outcomes

- Support, develop and promote capacity
- Enhance community and neighbourhood safety
- Provide community based programmes
- Reduce or overcome barriers

Outcomes that will be achieved through this project

40 of our volunteer leaders and rangatahi attend first aid training
Our hall is secure and well maintained, continuing to provide the opportunity for other community groups to hire it.
Our programmes, enhancing our rangatahi basic life skills, are delivered more effectively through audio-visual tools.
Capacity to deliver effective programmes to our young people is enhanced (for example the first aid courses will use the audio-visual equipment)

How Will Participants Be Better Off?
Rangatahi will benefit from upskilling (first aid), a safe and secure environment (doors and locks) and enhanced learning facilities (projector & screen) for gaining life skills. This will also benefit volunteer leaders through upskilling, safety and access to improved equipment for teaching and group discussion. Further, the maintenance and upgrading of the Hall will benefit all users of the hall.

Staff Assessment

Established in the 1950's, the St Martins Scouts Group relocated to their currently facility on Centaurus Road in 1962. The group sits under the national scouts banner with the aim to 'encourage the development of young people to achieve their full physical, intellectual, social and spiritual potential, as individuals, as responsible citizens and as members of the local, national and international communities.
The group delivers youth programmes from ages 5 through to 15. There is a strong focus on leadership development, outdoor skills and camping, first aiding but also photography and electronics. As tamariki/rangatahi progress through the group they are provided opportunity to become leaders, and are able to support the younger groups coming through. The club delivers these programmes to over 120 tamariki/rangatahi in the Spreydon-Cashmere wards. Membership is $110 a term (less if the term is not 10 weeks). Parents who volunteer for the club and members who are leaders are also offered a discount on memberships, which makes it affordable but also creates an incentive for volunteering within the group.
The hall is used by a variety of community groups with environmental, recreation and youth development interest (Including Cashmere High School, Steiner School, Opawaho River Network, Gecko, Flourish Kia Puawai, Adventure Specialist Trust and other scouts groups). It is a cost-effective space that provides access to not only the hall, but a climbing wall, kayaks and the Opawaho River.
The club is seeking funding towards First Aid Training, Hall Maintenance and a Projector and Screen. First Aid training is essential for the safety of the club and its members, and the training is also utilized for 14-18 year old rangatahi, to not only support the safety of the club but also support personal development. In regards to Hall Maintenance, the club is seeking to upgrade the doors and locks. The hall has wide community use, and regular maintenance is needed to ensure it meets the standards of wider use. Finally, the club is seeking funds towards a projector and screen which will support the delivery of the programmes delivered by scouts, but also make the facility better equipped for current and potential community users.

Recommendation rationale:

- The club's mahi aligns with the Strengthening Communities Together Strategy including increased access to arts, culture, heritage, recreation, and environmental activities.
- The project supports the community activation and kaitiakitanga of public places and spaces, and Increases volunteering opportunities.

Reduction in bullying in the playground	Staff Assessment  The Graeme Dingle Foundation Canterbury have been delivering the Kiwi Can programme at Te Kura Taumatua Addington School for 3 years. The school currently has 260 children, from a diverse range of ethnicities. The programme is delivered one day a week and during that day to every class in the school. The school set goals in their strategic plan that form part of the local school curriculum and they have a service agreement with GDFC to deliver what is needed in the school in terms of a life skills and values programme.  Kiwi Can is based on the theory that by supporting the individual, building their self-efficacy and strengthening their basic values, a real change can be made in downstream behaviour patterns such as educational failure, anti-social behaviour, bullying and crime. It is a preventative programme that aims to equip primary school children with skills to build resilience and self-belief, helping them to overcome barriers now and in the future.  The leaders work with the school on an engagement plan that includes a mix of structured playground activities, tamariki initiated activities and greet and send off at the school gate. The leaders are at the school one day a week, for 8 hour, 6.5 of these are school curriculum hours, 1.5 are not. The time outside of the structured class curriculum allows additional behaviour modelling and coaching across age groups and in a more conducive environment. When the leaders are in the playground they can pick up and change situations in an informal setting.  Recommendation rationale: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>The group runs programmes in schools across Canterbury. It has significant grant funding and sponsorship from many other sources. The programme has been running in Addington School for 3 years without funding from community board.</li><li>Only 2.5 hours of the day the leaders are at the school are outside of the school curriculum. ### Staff Assessment

The Cashmere New Life Church established this project in Term Three 2019 in partnership with the Beckenham School. The programme group is located at 196 Colombo Street alongside the Church premises which has recently relocated from 30 Colombo St in Thorrington. The group affiliates to the regional and national programme organisations that ensure good practice and compliance standards are met. The role of the youth worker is to provide individual and small group support to students, fostering positive relationships, cultivating school spirit, and developing leadership potential. The worker plays a key role in integrating students with out-of-school activities, in a way that complements the teaching staff, to provide a holistic support network within the school environment and beyond. The role does not include teaching or professional counselling duties.

Cashmere New Life also facilitates the 'Kai for Kids' programme, collecting donations of lunch items which are then distributed to students at Beckenham Te Kura o Pūroto who are experiencing hardship and coming to school without any food.

This application is to meet background or overhead costs rather than the direct delivery costs of the youth worker wages, which are otherwise funded. A grant for these costs would support the capacity of the group to meet the good practice standards of the programme. The programme has been established to meet recognised needs and is fully endorsed by the school staff for the social as well as academic difference it has made for the students supported.

Recommendation rationale:

- This project is recommended because it makes strong contribution to the Strengthening Communities Outcome of essential life skills while requiring a relatively small contribution.
- The amount of $1,500 is recommended with the expectation that further sources of funding support will be sought.

Staff Assessment

The Christchurch South Community Patrol (CSCP) operates a voluntary community patrol service across southern Christchurch suburbs and beyond, mainly encompassing Spreydon-Cashmere neighbourhoods and stretching from Ferryhead to Halswell Park, and Port Hills areas from Cashmere to Addington. There is a total of 58 volunteers who are trained to required national standards, and they work in the organisation's vehicle in shifts throughout the day as well as late nights in weekend periods.

The service works in liaison with Police, as well as a range of local businesses and community groups with complementary aims to improve neighbourhood safety, sense of safety, and prevention of anti-social behaviour. The group also takes part in local community events and promotions to raise awareness of safe practices and to provide local residents with information and helpful resources. Over 12 months the patrols covered almost 25,000 kilometers on 300 days involving night time and day time shifts.

The CSCP seeks a funding contribution to cover administration, first aid training, and vehicle insurance costs. The highest cost the patrol faces is the running costs of their vehicle, and this is covered from donations obtained from multiple businesses and funders. Since the onset of COVID-19 financial performance returns showed reduced income from donations and grants.

Recommendation rationale:

- The recommendation of $1,800 is to help meet core operational costs, recognising the significant voluntary contribution mobilised by the organisation.
- While the project makes a strong contribution to community safety outcomes, the organisation is mainly funded from other sources.

HHR recommendation: $600

LCH recommendation: $600

The Whareora House of Life has had a presence in the area for over 25 years. It has fostered good connections with the community and been responsive to changing needs. Many of the community connection activities have come about through community input. They also produce a quarterly newsletter delivered to households in the Spreydon area.

The range of projects, activities and programmes include community lunches, movie afternoons, book and puzzle library, craft and games groups, monthly bus trips and winter and Christmas outreach projects. There is also a regular foot clinic and a drop in service which can refer people to appropriate services and organisations as appropriate. There is also a small outdoor area, a community garden and community pantry.

Income is generated from rented office space, the second hand clothes shop and casual hire of the facility. Many of the people participating in activities and programmes are elderly and lonely and Whareora House provides a safe friendly haven with opportunities for social interaction in a fun nurturing environment.

A project coordinator is employed for 12 hours per week this role has responsibility for coordinating programmes, activities, administration and maintenance of the house.

Recommendation rationale:

- The project helps achieve the objectives of the Te Haumako Te Whitingia Strengthening Communities Together Strategy, by contributing to the pillars of People and Place.
- The $4,000 recognises the intrinsic value of the coordinator. The role takes on the work needed that is beyond the scope of the substantial volunteer input to the project.
